 3 Order (Dkt. 91 & 125), the parties submit this Joint Case Management Statement.

4 I. Jurisdiction and Service

5 Plaintiffs' Position: This Court has jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1331 because this action 6 arises under the Constitution and laws of the United States. Venue is proper in the Northern District 7 of California under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(e)(1) because at least one Plaintiff resides in this judicial 8 district and each Defendant is an agency of the United States or an officer of the United States sued 9 in his or her official capacity. Defendants were served with process on July 11, 2025. (Dkts. 38-41).

10 Defendants' Position: This Court does not have jurisdiction over any of Plaintiffs' claims, 11 whether arising under the Administrative Procedure Act or the Constitution. Congress has expressly 12 provided that “[t]here is no judicial review of any determination of the [Secretary] with respect to the 13 designation, or termination or extension of a designation, of a foreign state” for TPS relief. 8 U.S.C.
 14 § 1254a(b)(5)(A); see also 5 U.S.C. § 701(a)(1) (precluding review under the Administrative 15 Procedure Act (“APA”) “to the extent” that other “statutes preclude judicial review”).

16 II. Facts

17 Plaintiffs' Position:

18 This case involves DHS Secretary Noem's unlawful decisions to terminate Temporary 19 Protected Status (“TPS”) for over 60,000 individuals from Honduras, Nepal, and Nicaragua who 20 have lived lawfully in the United States for at least 26 years (Honduras and Nicaragua) or 10 years 21 (Nepal) during ongoing crises in their countries.

22 Honduras and Nicaragua were originally designated for TPS on January 5, 1999, after 23 Hurricane Mitch swept through Central America causing severe flooding and associated damage.
 24 Honduras' TPS designation was extended by multiple Attorneys General and DHS Secretaries 25 between 1999 and 2017, in regular periodic reviews, based on persisting damage from the hurricane, 26 as well as subsequent natural disasters and economic and political crises. Nicaragua's TPS 27 designation was extended by multiple Attorneys General and DHS Secretaries between 1999 and 28 2017, in regular periodic reviews, based on social, economic, and infrastructural challenges; post-

1 Mitch environmental disasters; a fractured economic foundation, “chronic poverty,” and problems of 2 governance and political tension. On July 7, 2025, Defendants terminated TPS for Honduras and 3 Nicaragua. In the Federal Register termination notices for both countries, Secretary Noem identified 4 certain positive indicators of improvement in conditions while ignoring major categories of 5 conditions that had previously been considered. Both termination notices also explicitly rely on 6 President Trump’s Executive Order titled “Protecting the American People Against Invasion” 7 (“Invasion E.O.”), which directed the DHS Secretary to “promptly take all appropriate action, 8 consistent with law, to rescind the policy decisions of the previous administration that led to the 9 increased or continued presence of illegal aliens in the United States,” including by reviewing 10 “designations of Temporary Protected Status” and mandating that TPS designations be 11 “appropriately limited in scope” to ameliorate the “continued presence of illegal aliens in the United 12 States.”

13 Nepal was first designated for TPS on June 24, 2015, after a 7.8 magnitude earthquake and a 14 number of significant aftershocks killed nearly 9,000 people, injured more than 20,000 people, 15 displaced millions, and destroyed or significantly damaged over 750,000 homes. Nepal’s designation 16 was extended for 18 months on October 26, 2016. On June 6, 2025, Secretary Noem terminated TPS 17 for Nepal. The Federal Register termination notice also explicitly cited to the Invasion E.O.
 18 instruction that Secretary Noem “ensur[e] that designations of Temporary Protected Status are ...
 19 appropriately limited in scope and made for only so long as may be necessary to fulfill the textual 20 requirements of the statute,” as well as justified the termination of Nepal’s designation by 21 identifying “notable improvements” while ignoring entire categories of conditions that had 22 previously been considered.

23 Despite the fact that Honduras, Nepal, and Nicaragua had each been designated for TPS for 24 over ten years, Secretary Noem declined to provide any “orderly transition” period beyond the 25 statutory 60-day minimum. See 8 U.S.C. 1254a(d)(3). Prior to the current administration, all 26 terminations of a designation of any length provided at least a six-month transition period, and more 27 commonly a 12- or 18-month transition period. The Secretary also failed to provide a “good reason” 28 for providing only 60 days for TPS holders to leave, particularly given the massive break with past

1 practice inherent in that decision.

2 In addition to terminating TPS for Nepal, Nicaragua, and Honduras, the Secretary has also 3 terminated TPS for Venezuela, Haiti, Afghanistan, and Cameroon since her confirmation on January 4 25, 2025, reflecting the preordained decision to terminate nearly all TPS designations across the 5 board. Each termination decision relies on the Invasion E.O. and follows a pattern of identifying 6 certain positive indicators of improvements in country conditions while ignoring major categories of 7 conditions that had previously been considered and that are highly relevant to whether nationals of 8 the country can safely return.

9 Plaintiffs in this case are the National TPS Alliance (NTPSA), a member-led organization 10 representing TPS holders across the country, and individual TPS holders from Nepal, Nicaragua, and 11 Honduras. Plaintiffs contend that Secretary Noem's actions are illegal for multiple reasons. First, the 12 Plaintiffs contend that Defendants' terminations for all three countries violate the APA because they 13 were not based on an objective review of country conditions, as required by statute, but are instead 14 the product of this administration's preordained, political decision to terminate nearly all TPS 15 designations wholesale. As one means of implementing their preordained termination decision, 16 Defendants categorically declined to consider any country conditions that were not directly related to 17 the reason for the initial designation, thereby (1) contravening the statutory mandate to base TPS 18 decisions on a fulsome review of country conditions and (2) arbitrarily breaking with past practice.
 19 Second, Plaintiffs contend that Defendants, in an unacknowledged and unexplained break with 20 decades of past practice, arbitrarily provided affected TPS holders just 60 days to prepare for the loss 21 of status despite their many years of legal status in the United States. Third, the Plaintiffs contend 22 that Defendants' decisions are unlawful because they were motivated at least in part by race- and 23 national origin-based animus, violating the equal protection guarantee of the Due Process Clause of 24 the Fifth Amendment.

25 Defendants' Position:

26 The Secretary, "after consultation with appropriate agencies[,] may designate a country for 27 TPS only if she finds (in pertinent part) that "there has been an earthquake, flood, drought, 28 epidemic, or other environmental disaster . . . resulting in substantial, but temporary, disruption of 1 living conditions . . . [such that] the foreign state is unable, temporarily, to handle adequately the 2 return to the state of aliens who are nationals of the state[.]” 8 U.S.C. § 1254a(b)(1). Aliens covered 3 by TPS are eligible for work authorization and may not be removed. Id. § 1254a(a). Initial TPS 4 designations are discretionary, and the Secretary must conduct periodic reviews to determine 5 whether the conditions underlying a TPS designation continue to be met. Id. § 1254a(b)(2), 6 (b)(3)(A). If the Secretary “does not determine” that the foreign state “no longer meets the 7 conditions for designation,” then “the period of designation of the foreign state is extended for an 8 additional period of 6 months (or, in the discretion of the [Secretary], a period of 12 or 18 months).” 9 Id. § 1254a(b)(3)(C). But if the foreign state “no longer continues to meet the conditions for 10 designation,” the Secretary “shall terminate the designation.” Id. § 1254a(b) (3) (B). The TPS statute 11 leaves the sensitive judgment calls about the government’s national interest in the Secretary’s hands.

 12 It bars judicial review of her TPS determinations, in plain terms: “There is no judicial review of any 13 determination of the [Secretary] with respect to the designation, or termination or extension of a 14 designation, of a foreign state under this subsection.” Id. § 1254a(b) (5) (A).

15 Nepal

16 On June 24, 2015, the Secretary designated Nepal for TPS for a period of 18 months due to 17 “substantial, but temporary, disruption of living conditions” resulting from an earthquake.
 18 Designation of Nepal for [TPS], 80 Fed. Reg. 36,346 (June 24, 2015). TPS was extended for an 19 additional 18 months on October 26, 2016. Extension of the Designation of Nepal for [TPS], 81 Fed.
 20 Reg. 74,470 (Oct. 26, 2016). In 2018, DHS announced the termination of TPS for Nepal. However, 21 litigation resulted in the continued extension of TPS documentation for TPS recipients from Nepal 22 for several years. See Nepal Termination, 90 Fed. Reg. at 24,152. In 2023, DHS reconsidered the 23 2018 decision to terminate TPS and again extended TPS for recipients from Nepal, “beginning on 24 December 25, 2023, and ending on June 24, 2025.” Reconsideration and Rescission of Termination
 25 of the Designation of Nepal for [TPS]; Extension of the [TPS] Designation for Nepal, 88 Fed. Reg.
 26 40,317 (June 21, 2023).

27 On June 6, 2025, DHS published notice in the Federal Register that TPS for Nepal would be 28 terminated effective on August 5, 2025.” Nepal Termination, 90 Fed. Reg. at 21,512. As the FRN

1 explained, Secretary Noem considered whether there continues to be a substantial, but temporary, 2 disruption of living conditions in Nepal and whether Nepal is able to adequately handle the return of 3 Nepalese nationals. Id. The Secretary highlighted notable improvements to disaster preparedness and 4 response, including the construction of disaster-resilient housing, infrastructure, and community 5 systems. Id. at 21,512-13. The Secretary considered Nepal's significant reconstruction efforts, 6 including statistics demonstrating that 88.36% of houses destroyed by the earthquake and 81.43% of 7 damaged health facilities had been rebuilt. Id. As a result, the Secretary determined that "there is no 8 longer a disruption of living conditions and Nepal is able to handle adequately the return of its 9 nationals." Id. at 21,512.

10 Honduras

11 In 1999, the Attorney General designated Honduras for TPS for 18 months due to 12 "environmental disaster and substantial disruption of living conditions caused by Hurricane Mitch."
 13 Designation of Honduras Under [TPS], 64 Fed. Reg. 524 (Jan. 5, 1999). TPS was repeatedly 14 extended for nearly twenty years until 2018, when the Secretary of Homeland Security terminated it.
 15 Termination of the Designation of Honduras for [TPS], 83 Fed. Reg. 26,074 (June 5, 2018). After 16 the 2018 termination announcement, litigation resulted in the continued extension of TPS 17 documentation for Honduran TPS recipients for several years. See Honduras Termination, 90 Fed.
 18 Reg. at 30,090. In 2023, DHS reconsidered the 2018 decision to terminate TPS and extended TPS 19 for Honduras through July 5, 2025. Reconsideration and Rescission of Termination of the 20 Designation of Honduras [TPS]; Extension of the [TPS] Designation for Honduras, 88 Fed. Reg. at 21 40,304 (June 21, 2023).

22 On July 8, 2025, DHS published notice in the Federal Register that TPS for Honduras would 23 be terminated effective September 8, 2025. Honduras Termination, 90 Fed. Reg. at 30,091. As 24 explained in the FRN, Secretary Noem "determined the conditions supporting Honduras' January 5, 25 1999, designation for TPS on the basis of environmental disaster due to Hurricane Mitch are no
 26 longer met." Id. As the FRN stated, "the conditions resulting from Hurricane Mitch no longer cause 27 a 'substantial,' but temporary, disruption in living conditions in the area affected,' and Honduras is 28 no longer 'unable, temporarily, to handle adequately the return of its nationals.'" Id. (quoting 8

1 U.S.C. § 1254a(b)(1)(A). The Secretary noted improvements to access to basic water sources, 2 sanitation, and electricity, as well as strengthened disaster management capacity. Id. Further, 3 significant hurricane recovery has transformed Honduras into a popular destination for tourists and 4 real estate investors. Id. The Secretary observed that assistance from the World Bank has improved 5 emergency response and post-disaster reconstruction efforts and that new projects are transforming 6 Honduras's infrastructure and creating new jobs. Id.

7 Nicaragua

8 In 1999, the Attorney General designated Nicaragua for TPS for 18 months after an 9 environmental disaster substantially disrupted living conditions, rendering Nicaragua temporarily 10 unable to handle adequately the return of its nationals. Designation of Nicaragua Under [TPS], 64 11 Fed. Reg. 526 (Jan. 5, 1999). TPS was extended for nearly two decades until 2017, when the Acting 12 Secretary terminated it. See Termination of the Designation of Nicaragua for [TPS], 82 Fed. Reg.
 13 59,636 (Dec. 15, 2017). After the termination announcement, litigation resulted in the continued 14 extension of TPS documentation for TPS recipients from Nicaragua for several years. See Nicaragua 15 Termination, 90 Fed. Reg. at 30,087. In 2023, DHS reconsidered the 2018 decision to terminate 16 TPS, resulting in another extension of TPS for recipients from Nicaragua through July 8, 2025.
 17 Reconsideration and Rescission of Termination of the Designation of Nicaragua for [TPS]; 18 Extension of the [TPS] Designation for Nicaragua, 88 Fed. Reg. at 40,294 (June 21, 2023).

19 On July 8, 2025, DHS published notice in the Federal Register that TPS for Nicaragua would 20 be terminated effective on September 8, 2025. Nicaragua Termination, 90 Fed. Reg. at 30,086. As 21 explained in the FRN, Secretary Noem, after consulting with the appropriate U.S. government 22 agencies and reviewing country conditions information, determined that “the conditions supporting 23 Nicaragua’s January 5, 1999 designation for TPS on the basis of environmental disaster due to 24 Hurricane Mitch are no longer met.” Id. at 30,088. Secretary Noem found Nicaragua has made 25 significant progress in recovering from the hurricane’s destruction, including improvements to 26 infrastructure, road and bridge construction, schools, and healthcare access. Id. Secretary Noem 27 noted growth in Nicaragua’s tourism, ecotourism, agriculture, and renewable energy industries and 28 advances in farming and agriculture technology. Id. The FRN identifies improvements in housing

1 and food security, as well as restoration of the healthcare sector. Id. Finally, Secretary Noem 2 observed that Nicaragua's macroeconomic structure has stabilized, with a record high foreign 3 reserve, sustainable debt load, and well-capitalized banking structure. Id.

4 III. Legal Issues

5 Plaintiffs' Position: The legal and equitable issues for determination include:

6 A. Whether Defendants' decisions to terminate TPS for Nepal, Nicaragua, and Honduras 7 were arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion, or not in accordance with the law, because, among 8 other things:

- 9 a. They were not based on a review of country conditions as required by 8 U.S.C.
 10 1254a(b)(3), but were instead based on a preordained, political decision to 11 terminate TPS wholesale; consideration of extra-statutory factors; and a selective 12 review of country conditions designed to identify only improvements and ignore 13 entire categories of conditions that did not support Defendants' preordained 14 termination decisions.
- 15 b. The research, consultation, and review process leading up to the decisions 16 deviated dramatically from past practice without explanation.
- 17 c. To the extent Defendants engaged in any process, it was so deficient as to amount 18 to no process at all, defeating the purpose of the TPS statute.
- 19 d. The decisions occurred under circumstances and a timeline that reflect that they 20 were pretextual.
- 21 e. The decisions assumed that TPS designations, including the designations of TPS 22 for Honduras, Nepal, and Nicaragua, are themselves illegal.
- 23 f. The decisions assumed that TPS holders are present in the United States illegally.

24 See 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(A); 8 C.F.R. § 244.19; FCC v. Fox Television Stations, Inc., 556 U.S. 502, 25 513 (2009).

26 B. Whether Defendants' termination of the TPS designations for Nepal, Nicaragua, and 27 Honduras with only 60 days' notice was arbitrary, capricious, and contrary to law in violation of the 28 APA because it represented an unacknowledged and unexplained departure from decades of 1 decision-making practices and ordinary procedures. See 8 C.F.R. § 244.19. By abandoning the long-2 standing agency practice of providing for orderly transition periods, and at least a six-month orderly 3 transition period when terminating TPS designations that have been in place for more than three 4 years, Defendants have engaged in procedurally flawed decision-making in violation of the APA.

5 C. Whether Defendants' decisions to terminate the TPS designations of Honduras, 6 Nepal, and Nicaragua violate the implicit anti-discrimination guarantee of the Due Process Clause 7 because they were motivated by intentional discrimination based on race, ethnicity, or national 8 origin. See U.S. Const. amend. V; Vill. of Arlington Heights v. Metro. Hous. Dev. Corp., 429 U.S.
 9 252, 265-66 (1977); Bolling v. Sharpe, 347 U.S. 497, 499 (1954).

10 Defendants' Position:

11 A. Whether this Court has jurisdiction to hear Plaintiffs' claims. Congress has explicitly 12 barred the Secretary's TPS determinations from judicial review. See 8 U.S.C. § 1254a(b)(5)(A); H.R.
 13 Rep. No. 101-245, at 14 ("Moreover, none of the [Secretary's] decisions with regard to granting, 14 extending, or terminating TPS will be subject to judicial review." (emphasis added)); 5 U.S.C. § 15 701(a)(1), (a)(2).

16 B. Whether the Secretary's termination of TPS designations for Honduras, Nepal, and 17 Nicaragua were unlawful under the APA. The Secretary has been entrusted with broad authority in 18 administering the TPS statute, and while § 1254a requires the Secretary to review conditions within 19 foreign states designated for TPS periodically, any subsequent action turns on the Secretary's findings 20 about whether the conditions for such designation continue to exist. 8 U.S.C. § 1254a(b)(3)(A)-(C).
 21 Additionally, if the Secretary, after conducting an in-depth review, determines that the conditions for 22 a TPS designation no longer exist, she must terminate the designation. 8 U.S.C. § 1254a(b)(3)(B).
 23 Here, the Secretary took the steps required by the TPS statute, and Plaintiffs simply disagree with the 24 outcome.

25 C. Whether the Secretary's TPS determinations violated equal protection principles.
 26 Plaintiffs cannot meet the deferential standard established by the Supreme Court in Trump v. Hawaii, 27 585 U.S. 667 (2018) for their Equal Protection claim. Hawaii's deferential rational-basis standard 28 governs these immigration policy decisions and the Secretary's decisions easily pass muster under it.

1 Even under the standard set forth in Vill. of Arlington Heights v. Metro. Housing Dev. Corp., 429 U.S.
 2 252 (1977), Plaintiffs' Equal Protection claim is still baseless.

3 D. Whether this Court can grant Plaintiffs the relief they seek. 8 U.S.C. § 1252(f)(1) 4 "prohibits lower courts from entering injunctions that order federal officials to take or refrain from 5 taking actions to enforce, implement, or otherwise carry out the specified provisions." Garland v.
 6 Aleman Gonzalez, 596 U.S. 543, 550 (2022). The TPS statute is a covered provision and the statutory 7 prohibition applies "[r]egardless of the nature of the action or claim" and to any order that "restrain[s]" 8 the Secretary.

9 E. Whether the relief Plaintiffs seek, a nationwide order, is overly broad. Any relief should 10 be tailored to the named-Plaintiffs in this case.

11 IV. Motions

12 Plaintiffs' Position: Plaintiffs filed a Motion to Proceed Under Pseudonym for individual 13 plaintiffs S.K. and O.C. concurrently with the Complaint on July 7, 2025. Dkt. 16. This Court 14 granted Plaintiffs' motion and ordered Plaintiffs to provide the full names of all parties under seal.
 15 Dkt. 26. In the August 7, 2025 Joint Case Management Statement, Plaintiffs noted that the parties 16 were discussing a Protective Order and the Plaintiffs would provide the full names of anonymous 17 Plaintiffs under seal as soon as a Protective Order was in place. This Monday, September 29, the 18 parties filed a Stipulated Protective Order, which was approved by Magistrate Judge Kim on 19 September 30. Dkts. 123 & 126. Although the parties engaged in extensive discussions regarding the 20 need for heightened protections for anonymous Plaintiffs' identities given Plaintiffs' fear of 21 retaliation, Dkt. 16, the Stipulated Protective Order did not ultimately include such a provision 22 because Defendants indicated that, if this Court were to grant Plaintiffs' Motion for Class 23 Certification, Defendants would have no need to obtain the identities of anonymous Plaintiffs, who 24 are not seeking appointment as Class Representatives. On September 16, following argument on 25 Plaintiffs' Class Certification Motion, this Court indicated its view that class certification appeared 26 to be appropriate. Accordingly, in light of Defendants' revised position regarding the identity of 27 anonymous Plaintiffs, Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court permit Plaintiffs to provide the 28 full names of anonymous Plaintiffs for in camera review only or, in the alternative, should the Court

1 determine that its decision on Class Certification obviates the need to provide the full names of non-2 Class Representative anonymous Plaintiffs to the Court, Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court 3 advise the parties accordingly.

4 Plaintiffs filed a Motion to Postpone Effective Agency Action under 5 U.S.C. § 705 of the 5 APA on July 8, 2025 to delay implementation or enforcement of the termination of TPS for Nepal, 6 Nicaragua, and Honduras until the resolution of these proceedings on the merits. Dkt. 17. Plaintiffs 7 also filed a Motion to Shorten Time on July 8, 2025, seeking to conduct the postponement hearing 8 on July 29, 2025 or as soon thereafter as the Court was available. Dkt. 19. Plaintiffs' Motion to 9 Shorten Time was granted, Dkt. 36, and the postponement hearing was scheduled for, and took place 10 on, July 29, 2025.

11 On July 31, 2025, the District Court granted Plaintiffs' Motion to Postpone Effective Agency 12 Action. Dkt. 73. On August 1, 2025, Defendants filed a Notice of Appeal to the Ninth Circuit 13 challenging the District Court's postponement order. Dkt. 74. Defendants also filed an Emergency 14 Motion to Stay this Court's Postponement Order Pending Appeal, Dkt. 75, and an Emergency 15 Motion to Shorten Time for Plaintiffs to Respond to Defendants' Motion for Emergency Stay, Dkt.
 16 76. This Court denied Defendants' Motion on August 8, 2025. Dkt. 87.

17 Defendants subsequently sought a stay of this Court's postponement order from the Ninth 18 Circuit. ECF No. 5.1. Defendants additionally sought "a stay of lower court proceedings pending 19 resolution of [the] appeal because the government ... intends to seek reassignment" to a different 20 judge. Id. at 22-23. On August 20, 2025, following briefing and oral argument, the Ninth Circuit 21 granted Defendants' motion for a stay of the postponement order pending appeal and denied 22 Defendants' motion for a stay of district court proceedings. Dkt. 96.

23 Meanwhile, on August 15, 2025, Plaintiffs filed a Motion for Class Certification. Dkt. 89.
 24 This Court heard argument on the Motion on September 16, 2025.

25 On August 26, 2025, Plaintiffs filed an Administrative Motion for Leave to File Multiple 26 Motions for Summary Judgment, Dkt. 101, along with a Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, Dkt.
 27 100, and an Administrative Motion to Shorten Time, Dkt. 102. On August 27, 2025, this Court 28 denied Plaintiffs Motion for Leave to File Multiple Motions for Summary Judgment, finding a lack

1 of good cause. Dkt. 104.

2 On September 9, 2025, Defendants filed a Motion to Dismiss. Dkt. 110. Plaintiffs filed their 3 Opposition on September 23, 2025. Dkt. 121. Defendants filed their reply on September 30, 2025.
 4 The Motion is set for hearing on November 18, 2025.

5 As set forth in Section VIII below, and pursuant to this Court's Case Management and 6 Scheduling Order, Dkt. 91, Plaintiffs plan on filing a motion for summary judgment and for vacatur
 7 of agency action under 5 U.S.C. § 706 with respect to Nepal, Nicaragua, and Honduras on October 8 14, 2025.

9 Regarding Defendants' impending motion to stay proceedings due to the lapse in federal 10 funding, Plaintiffs have informed Defendants that, unless Defendants will agree to stay 11 implementation of the termination of TPS for Honduras, Nepal, and Nicaragua until Congress 12 restores funding, Plaintiffs cannot agree to a stay, because it would severely prejudice the rights of 13 60,000 TPS holders that are at issue in this matter. In contrast, proceeding with this litigation would 14 not prejudice the government. The contingency plan issued by the Department of Justice 15 contemplates that it can and will continue litigating during the shutdown in the event a court denies a 16 stay. “[T]he Government will comply with the court's order, which would constitute express legal 17 authorization for the activity to continue.” U.S. Dep’t of Justice FY 2026 Contingency Plan (Sep. 29, 18 2025) <https://www.justice.gov/jmd/media/1377216/dl>. As a result, “the litigation will become an 19 excepted activity,” id., and the responsible litigators will be “excepted” employees, Off. of Personnel 20 Mgmt., Guidance for Shutdown Furloughs 2 (Sept. 2025), <https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/pay-leave/reference-materials/guidance-for-shutdown-furloughs-sep-28-2025/>. No 21 hardship would result, as “excepted” DOJ employees “shall be paid” for all work performed during 22 the lapse in appropriations. 31 U.S.C. § 1341(c)(2).

24 Defendants' Position: Defendants agree with Plaintiffs' characterization of the motions that 25 have been filed thus far in the case. Unless the parties come to some prior agreement, Defendants 26 intend to file motions for summary judgment and under Daubert no later than October 14, 2025.
 27 Defendants will also be immediately filing a motion to stay proceedings given the lapse of funding 28 for the federal government.

1 V. Amendment of Pleadings

2 Plaintiffs' Position: Plaintiffs have not amended the Complaint and do not expect to amend 3 the Complaint at this time.

4 Defendants' Position: Defendants maintain that any amendment of the pleadings would be 5 futile because all challenges to TPS determinations are barred. Moreover, this Court's deadline for 6 amended pleadings passed on September 22, 2025. Dkt. 91 at 2.

7 VI. Evidence Preservation

8 The parties have reviewed the Guidelines Relating to the Discovery of Electronically Stored 9 Information, and will meet and confer regarding protocols for preserving evidence.

10 VII. Disclosures

11 Plaintiffs' Position: Plaintiffs propose that the parties meet and confer to determine the scope 12 and timeline of disclosures that are appropriate for this case.

13 Defendants' Position: Defendants assert that, as an action for review on the administrative 14 record, this case is exempt from initial disclosures. Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1).

15 VIII. Discovery

16 Plaintiffs' Position:

17 On July 11, 2025, Plaintiffs filed an Administrative Motion to Expedite Production of the 18 Certified Administrative Records (“CARs”), Dkt. 42, which Defendants opposed, Dkt. 46. The Court 19 granted Plaintiffs’ motion and ordered Defendants to produce the CARs within seven days of the 20 order. Dkt. 47. Defendants produced the CARs for the three termination decisions to Plaintiffs on 21 July 22, 2025, and filed the CARs with the Court on July 28, 2025. Dkts. 62–64. Defendants 22 subsequently filed erratas to all three CARs on August 4, 2025. Dkts. 77–79.

23 On August 18, the Court referred this case to Magistrate Judge Kim for discovery. Dkt. 94.

24 On August 19, Plaintiffs moved for the Magistrate’s resolution of discovery disputes 25 concerning 1) Defendants’ withholding of documents in the CAR pursuant to the deliberative 26 process privilege (“DPP”); and 2) Plaintiffs’ right to expedited extra-record discovery. Dkt. 95.

27 After in camera review, the Magistrate also ordered the production of documents withheld 28 from the CARs as DPP. Dkt. 107 at 1-6. After briefing, Magistrate Judge Kim also granted

1 Plaintiffs' request for expedited extra-record discovery, and for the production of records responsive
 2 to three Requests for Production ("RFPs"). Dkts. 97 at 2-3, 5 & Dkt. 107. See also Dkt. 95-1 3 (Plaintiffs' RFPs). The Magistrate denied Plaintiffs' request for production of records responsive to 4 two additional RFPs and for the CARs for TPS terminations not directly challenged in this litigation.
 5 Dkts. 107 & 113.

6 In her orders granting expedited extra-record discovery, the Magistrate ordered Defendants to 7 produce records responsive to Plaintiffs' RFPs by September 18. Dkt. 107 at 8-9.

8 Defendants' production was delayed in part due to technical difficulties. On September 18 and 9 22, Defendants produced approximately 739 responsive documents. The documents produced 10 principally consisted of many copies of the same final agency records and some email correspondence.
 11 Defendants did not produce draft documents; and the substantive content of emails was typically 12 largely redacted. Defendants also withheld in full one-third of the responsive documents (392 13 documents, out of a total of 1,131 documents) and withheld in part an additional 271 documents.
 14 Among the documents withheld were all draft documents and most substantive email correspondence.

15 On September 22, the same day that Defendants completed their production of responsive 16 records, Plaintiffs requested that Defendants produce the documents withheld as DPP. Plaintiffs 17 identified this as consistent with the orders of this Court in this and other cases concerning challenges 18 to TPS decisionmaking. Courts have consistently held when presented with this precise question in 19 TPS litigation that the DPP must give way in light of Plaintiffs' need for relevant information, making 20 Defendants' assertion of DPP here untenable.<sup>1</sup> On September 29, Plaintiffs identified that they 21 intended to also seek the Court's in camera review of 23 documents for which they allege that 22 Defendants have not substantiated their invocation of the attorney-client privilege ("ACP").
 23 Defendants agreed to withdraw the ACP privilege from three of the disputed documents, but 24 maintained their DPP invocation as to all of the documents withheld in full or in part on this ground.

25 <sup>1</sup> Ramos v. Nielsen, No. 18-cv-01554-EMC (N.D. Cal. Aug. 15, 2018) ("Ramos"), Dkts. 63, 79, 84 26 (overruling the qualified DPP in all instances); NTPSA I, Dkts. 184 at 3-5 ("applying the qualified 27 deliberative process privilege is not warranted here") & 195 at 2 n.1 (affirming magistrate's order 28 overruling DPP invocation and finding that certain records withheld as DPP were "arguably not predecisional or deliberative"); Dkt. 97 at 7 (opining that "the parties should discuss why departure from prior practice in [NTPSA I] is warranted" if the parties raise a DPP dispute in NTPSA II); Dkt.
 107 at 1-6 (ordering the disclosure of documents withheld from the CAR as DPP).

1 On September 30, following meet and confer, Plaintiffs moved for the Magistrate to resolve two 2 discovery disputes which the parties were unable to resolve through meet and confer: 1) whether 3 Defendants may withhold responsive documents subject to the qualified DPP; and 2) whether 4 Defendants have properly invoked the ACP in connection with 20 documents withheld in full or in 5 part. Dkt. 129. This dispute remains pending with the Magistrate.

6 In light of the fact that this discovery dispute may not be resolved sufficiently in advance of 7 the deadline for Plaintiffs' summary judgment motion for Plaintiffs to receive and review any newly 8 disclosed discovery, Plaintiffs seek leave from this Court to rely on later-produced documents in 9 their reply. See, e.g., NTPSA I, Dkt. 181 (permitting Plaintiffs to introduce and rely on late-produced 10 documents in TPS-related litigation in light of delays in the resolution of discovery disputes).
 11 Plaintiffs only received Defendants' completed discovery on September 22 and, in this production, 12 Defendants withheld all responsive draft documents and most substantive email communications as 13 DPP. A discovery dispute concerning these documents is currently pending with the Magistrate.
 14 While Plaintiffs have moved expeditiously to both secure all necessary discovery, and identify 15 discovery disputes,<sup>2</sup> Plaintiffs' prompt access to critical documents has been hampered by the failure 16 of Defendants to timely produce responsive records, and Defendants' withholding of significant and 17 important documents as DPP despite that this Court has consistently ordered that Defendants 18 produce such materials, both in this case (for records initially withheld as DPP in the CAR) and in 19 other challenges to TPS terminations in this district. See note 1, supra.

20 Defendants' Position: Defendants agree with Plaintiffs' description of the course of discovery 21 thus far in this case, but not with Plaintiffs' characterization of the documents Defendants have 22 produced to date or Plaintiffs' position regarding DPP and ACP. Defendants have provided their 23 position on these issues in the parties' September 30, 2025, Joint Discovery Letter Brief. Dkt. 129.
 24 Defendants continue to review the challenged ACP invocations and will continue to meaningfully 25

26 <sup>2</sup> Plaintiffs sought expedited extra-record discovery at the first available opportunity, initially in the 27 case management statement and then the day after the referral of this case to the Magistrate. Dkts. 84 28 & 95. Defendants have opposed discovery at every turn, sought to delay production, and refused to produce documents invoking privileges which have been overruled in this case and in every other TPS challenge. See, e.g., Dkt. 95 at 5-8; Dkt. 105 at 5-8; Dkt. 129.

1 engage with Plaintiffs in an attempt to narrow the dispute. In the absence of an amicable resolution, 2 Defendants also intend to supplement their position in the Joint Discovery Letter Brief.

3 IX. Class Actions

4 Plaintiffs' Position: Plaintiffs filed a Motion for Class Certification on August 15, 2025. Dkt.
 5 89. This Court heard argument on the Motion on September 16, 2025.

6 Defendants' Position: Defendants filed an opposition to Plaintiffs' Motion for Class 7 Certification on August 25, 2025.

8 X. Related Cases

9 On July 7, 2025, Plaintiffs filed a motion to relate this case to Ramos (Case No. 18-cv-1554), 10 Bhattarai, et al. v. Nielsen, et al. (Case No. 19-cv-00731) ("Bhattarai"), and NTPSA I (Case No. 25-11 cv-01766). See Ramos, Dkt. 264. Defendants filed an opposition on July 8, 2025. Ramos, Dkt. 266.
 12 On July 11, 2025, Judge Edward Chen, who oversaw Ramos, denied Plaintiffs' motion to relate this 13 case to the aforementioned cases. Ramos, Dkt. 269.

14 At the Court's direction, Plaintiffs filed a notice on July 11, 2025 identifying all pending 15 federal court cases challenging TPS terminations of which they are aware. Dkt. 37. Since that time, 16 one additional case has been filed, challenging the partial vacatur and termination of TPS for Haiti:
 17 Miot v. Trump, Case No. 1:25-cv-02471 (D.D.C. July 30, 2025). Plaintiffs are not aware of any other 18 pending cases challenging the termination of TPS for Nepal, Nicaragua, and/or Honduras.

19 XI. Relief

20 Plaintiffs' Position: This Court's order postponing the effective dates of the terminations of 21 TPS for Honduras, Nepal, and Nicaragua, has been stayed by the Ninth Circuit. Dkts. 73; 96.
 22 Plaintiffs continue to seek declaratory relief, and that the Court set aside the agency's unlawful 23 termination orders for Nepal, Nicaragua, and Honduras under the Administrative Procedure Act and 24 the Equal Protection Clause of the Fifth Amendment. Plaintiffs further seek an award of attorneys' 25 fees and costs, as well as any other additional relief that the Court may deem proper.

26 Defendants' Position: Defendants seek dismissal of this action.

27 XII. Settlement and ADR

28 The parties do not believe that ADR would be fruitful at this point given Plaintiffs' and 1 Defendants' disagreement about threshold legal issues.

2 XIII. Other References

3 At this time, the parties do not believe this case is suitable for reference to binding arbitration 4 or a special master. Nor is this case suitable for the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation.

5 XIV. Narrowing of Issues

6 The parties will continue to discuss the possibility of narrowing the issues beyond the 7 motions described above.

8 XV. Scheduling

9 This Court's August 13, 2025, Case Management and Scheduling Order, Dkt. 91, set 10 deadlines for designation of experts (opening reports by September 29, 2025, rebuttal reports by 11 October 3, 2025, cut off October 8, 2025), fact discovery (September 23, 2025), dispositive motions 12 (October 14, 2025), oppositions to dispositive motions (October 28, 2025), replies in support of 13 dispositive motions (November 4, 2025), and hearing on dispositive motions (November 18, 2025).

14 XVI. Expedited Trial Procedure

15 The parties do not believe that this case should be handled under the Expedited Trial Procedure 16 of General Order No. 64 Attachment A.

17 XVII. Trial

18 Plaintiffs' Position: Plaintiffs have not requested a jury trial. Plaintiffs currently anticipate 19 litigating the merits of their APA claims on summary judgment. Plaintiffs will propose a timeline for 20 disposition of the constitutional claim as the case progresses.

21 Defendants' Position: Defendants maintain that this case is to be decided on the 22 administrative record and thus should be decided via summary judgment. Fed. R. Civ. P. 56.

23 XVIII. Disclosure of Non-Party Interested Entities or Persons

24 Plaintiffs filed Certifications of Interested Entities or Persons, as required by Civil Local 25 Rule 3-15, on July 7, 2025. Dkt. 6. Plaintiffs are unaware of any persons, firms, partnerships, 26 corporations, or other entities that have either (i) a financial interest in the subject matter in 27 controversy or in a party to the proceeding; or (ii) any other kind of interest that could be 28 substantially affected by the outcome of the proceeding.

1 XIX. Professional Conduct

2 All attorneys of record for the parties have reviewed the Guidelines for Professional Conduct 3 for the Northern District of California.

4 XX. Other Matters

5 The parties have no other matters to raise at this time.
